Saxe Lawyers Say Fair Trial Impossible

By EWART ROUSE
Inquirer Staff Writer

Attorneys for Susan Edith Saxe filed a motion yesterday in U. S. District Court seeking dismissal of bank robbery charges against their client on the grounds that pretrial publicity had made it impossible for her to obtain a fair trial.

Motions were filed also to suppress evidentiary statements against her, and to have her transferred from the Berks County prison near Reading, back to the House of Correction in Philadelphia.

Ms. Saxe, who was arrested here last month after nearly five years on the FBI's list of most-wanted fugitives, had been held in the Philadelphia jail in lieu of $350,000 bail until last Friday, when she was transferred to the Berks County prison.

Her attorney, David Rudovsky, argued in his motion that the transfer was "capricious and retaliatory" and "imposes a disability on her counsel to adequately prepare her defense."

The difficulty of access between client and attorney, the motion stated, constitutes a violation of her right to counsel and a fair trial.

The motion seeks her return to Philadelphia within two days. If this is not done, charges against her should be dropped, the motion states.

Ms. Saxe, a 1970 graduate of Brandeis University at Boston, is accused in the Sept. 2, 1970, holdup of the Bell Savings and Loan Associ-that netted more than $6,000 on Haverford Avenue.

Among other motions filed Tuesday in her behalf was one seeking to have the government disclose all the data it allegedly had obtained through electronic surveillance in connection with the case.

Susan Saxe asks judge for indictment dismissal

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Susan E. Saxe asked a federal judge Tuesday to dismiss an indictment under which she is scheduled to be tried here May 22 on bank robbery and related charges.

Attorneys for the former Brandeis University honor student said she could not get a fair trial in this or any other district because of "prejudice and publicity" generated by repeated press and broadcast references to her as a "student radical, a terrorist, and a lesbian and a feminist."

"Her name, her case and her arrest have been coupled repeatedly with reference to other persons and groups of greater or equal notoriety such as Patricia Hearst, the Weather Underground, the Symbionese Liberation Army, Patricia Swinton, and Jane Alpert, who has admitted participating in a series of bombings in New York City," attorneys said in a pretrial motion.

The motion was one of 11 filed on behalf of Ms. Saxe, 36, of Albany, N.Y., by defense cocounsel Ms. Catherine G. Roraback and David Rudovsky.

In another plea, they claim that because Ms. Saxe is a feminist and a lesbian, she could not get a fair trial unless she were tried by an all-women jury.

The courts as well as other agencies in our society, "generally are essentially male domains," the attorneys said.

"A woman defendant being tried in such a male-oriented atmosphere should, if she is to receive her rights to a fair trial by an impartial jury, be entitled to a jury of women who indeed are the only class which would counter the conditioned bias in the court and prosecutor."

The petitions were filed with U.S. District Judge Alfred L. Luongo who is assigned to preside at Ms. Saxe's trial.

The defendant is charged with conspiracy, robbery, aiding and abetting and possession of a molotov cocktail in connection with a $6,240 bank holdup here in September, 1970.

Ms. Saxe faces charges in Boston in the looting of an armory and a $28,000 bank holdup in which a policeman was slain September 23, 1970.

Saxe Wants Case Dropped But Calls for Female Jury

By HARMON Y. GORDON of The Bulletin Staff

Susan E. Saxe yesterday asked for the dismissal of a six-count federal indictment against her, claiming she can't get a fair trial in the United States.

But, Miss Saxe, 26, wants an all-woman jury if she is to be tried on the charges, which stem from the Sept. 1, 1970, robbery of the City Line branch of the Bell Savings & Loan Association, 7578 Haverford ave., in the Overbrook section of Philadelphia.

She also is accused of the 1970 slaying of a Boston policeman.

In legal motions filed by her lawyers, David Rudovsky, of Philadelphia, and Catherine G. Roraback, of New Haven, Conn., Miss Saxe contended that adverse publicity in newspapers and magazines on television and radio will prevent a fair trial. Arrested March 27

She filed 11 motions for dismissal before U.S. District Judge Alfred L. Luongo. He took them under consideration. Yesterday was the final date set by Luongo to file pretrial motions. He has scheduled the trial to start May 12.

She and another woman, Katherine Power, 26, are wanted for the killing of Patrolman Walter A. Schroeder, father of nine, who was slain during a bank robbery in Boston on Sept. 23, 1970. Three men in the holdup have been convicted. Miss Power is still at large.

New Charge

In most of the motions, Miss Saxe, who wasn't in court, describes herself as a young woman who is a feminist and lesbian."

The federal indictment was handed up last week, replacing a 1970 indictment. She is charged with three counts of aiding and abetting and a count each of conspiracy in the robbery of a savings and loan, unlawful possession of a firearm and unlawful possession of a Molotov cocktail.

'Greater Notoriety'

"Her picture has been reproduced numerous times. She has been identified repeatedly as a student radical, a militant, a terrorist, a lesbian, a feminist . . .

"Her name, her case and her arrest have been coupled repeatedly with reference to other persons and groups of greater or equal notoriety

"Massive and prejudicial publicity in Philadelphia, eastern Pennsylvania and the United States has created and-or reinforced intents and deep-seated prejudice, fear and hostility toward the defendant in so far as she represents a student activist, feminist and lesbian, and even honest disclamors of 'preconceived' judgments, fear, hostility or prejudice cannot be accepted.

Miss Saxe said she can't receive a fair and impartial trial "in this or any other district.

In her challenge to the jury selection method, she said the "courts . . . are essentially male domains.

Male-Oriented Atmosphere

"A woman defendant being tried in such a male-oriented atmosphere should, if she is to receive her rights to a fair trial by an impartial jury, be entitled to a jury of women who are indeed the only class which would counter the conditioned bias in the court and prosecution.

Miss Saxe asked Luongo to suppress any physical evidence seized in Portland, Ore., where she once lived, at Brandeis University, from which she was graduated in 1970, and anywhere else she has lived.

She also asked the Federal Government be ordered to turn over evidence obtained by alleged electronic surveillance. She asked the court to order the government to disclose which branches of government may have conducted electronic surveillance on her since 1970.

Susan Saxe Pleads Not Guilty to Charge Of Robbing a Bank

PHILADELPHIA, April 7 (UPI)—Susan Edith Saxe, former Brandeis University honor student who was on the Federal Bureau of Investigation's "10 most wanted list," pleaded not guilty today to Federal bank robbery charges.

Miss Saxe, 26 years old, of Albany, was arrested Philadelphia 11 days ago. She entered her plea today to five counts stemming from a $6,240 holdup of the Bell Federal Savings and Loan Association office here on Sept. 1, 1970.

After she entered her plea, United States Magistrate Tullio G. Leomporra set April 22 as the deadline for pre-trial motions and set the trial date for May 12 before Judge Alfred L. Luongo in Federal District Court.

Magistrate Leomporra continued the $350,000 bail set for Miss Saxe after she was arrested on a downtown street by Patrolman Joseph Reid, who recognized her from a new F.B.I. photograph he was carrying at the time of the arrest.

Miss Saxe is also one of five persons charged with the Sept. 23, 1970, holdup of the State Street Trust Company in Boston in which a policeman was killed. She will be tried in Boston on those charges after the Philadelphia trial.

Miss Saxe appeared calm and smiled as she chatted with several of the 100 or so spectators who were permitted in the courtroom only after they were screened by marshals with hand-held metal detectors.

Magistrate Leomporra set the deadline for pre-trial motions after Catherine Roraback, of New Haven, said she had only recently been retained as Miss Saxe's attorney and needed time to prepare the case.

The indictment charges Miss Saxe with conspiracy, robbery and aiding and abetting. It says that Stanley R. Bond entered the bank here while Miss Saxe stood outside trying to light a Molotov cocktail device fashioned from a whisky bottle.

U UPI release AO53 dated March 28, 1975, concerned the arrest of captioned subject in Philadelphia. This release was followed by a correction release numbered AO54 and the Director noted, "What is their point in correction attached?"

The value of the UPI correction is viewed as being most insignificant. The first correction was to add quotation marks at the end of the fifth paragraph. The second correction was to add "before Thursday's arrest, the spokesman said," thereby making the sixth paragraph read, "Before Thursday's arrest, the spokesman said, 'This has been a most frustrating case.'" UPI's theory in making this second correction was to make it clear to the reader that the statement concerning this being a frustrating case was made before the arrest of Saxe. U

BOSTON (UPI) -- THE ARREST OF SUSAN SAXE, THE HONOR STUDENT-TURNED-MILITANT WHO LED AUTHORITIES ON A CHASE THROUGH COMMUNES AND COLLEGE CAMPUSES, HAS PARTIALLY ENDED A CASE THAT FRUSTRATED THE FBI FOR MORE THAN FOUR YEARS.

MISS SAXE, 26, OF ALBANY, N.Y., ONE OF THE FBI'S 10 MOST WANTED OUTLAWS, WAS CAPTURED THURSDAY BY AN ALERT POLICE OFFICER IN PHILADELPHIA AS SHE WALKED ALONG A DOWNTOWN STREET.

SHE AND FUGITIVE KATHERINE ANN POWER, OF DENVER, COLO., HAD REPORTEDLY BEEN CONSTANT COMPANIONS SINCE THE 1970 DEATH OF A BOSTON POLICEMAN THEY ARE ACCUSED OF MURDERING DURING A BANK HOLDUP. THE TWO WOMEN WERE ON THE FBI'S MOST WANTED LIST LONGER THAN ANY WOMEN IN HISTORY. MISS POWER IS STILL AT LARGE.

FBI AGENTS HAD DECLINED TO DISCUSS THE STATUS OF THE INVESTIGATION, BUT PRIVATELY OFFICIALS DIDN'T HIDE THEIR DESIRE TO SOLVE THE CASE. MANY OFFICIALS HAD EXPRESSED SURPRISE OVER THE FBI'S INABILITY TO FIND THE TWO WOMEN, WHO WERE REPORTED LIVING OPENLY AS LESBIANS AVOIDING AUTHORITIES BY BLENDING INTO A COUNTER-CULTURE LIFESTYLE.

"IT WAS A DIFFICULT INVESTIGATION BECAUSE THE SUSPECTS WENT UNDERGROUND," AN FBI SPOKESMAN IN BOSTON SAID FOLLOWING THURSDAY'S ARREST. "THIS WAS A CONTINUAL AND INTENSIVE INVESTIGATION FOR MORE THAN FOUR YEARS."

"THIS HAS BEEN A FRUSTRATING CASE."

MISS SAXE AND POWER, STUDENTS AT BRANDEIS UNIVERSITY AT THE TIME OF THE BOSTON HOLDUP AND MURDER, WERE THE LAST OF FOUR YOUNG WOMEN TO MAKE THE FBI'S LIST DURING 1970, WHEN VIOLENCE AMONG COLLEGE RADICALS GAVE AUTHORITIES A NEW TYPE OF CRIMINAL TO DEAL WITH.

THE OTHER TWO WERE ANGELA DAVIS, WHO WAS CAUGHT WITHIN TWO MONTHS AND ACQUITTED, AND BERNADINE RAE DOHRN, A MILITANT LEADER WHO ELUDED THE FBI FOR MORE THAN THREE YEARS BEFORE CAPTURE.

MISS SAXE AND POWER, WHO USED TO BE MODEL COLLEGE STUDENTS WITH NUMEROUS SCHOLASTIC AND CIVIC AWARDS, JOINED THREE EX-CONVICTS THEY MET THROUGH THE ANTIWAR MOVEMENT TO FORM AN URBAN GUERRILLA UNIT, POLICE SAY.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

This will confirm that the defendant Bond was found guilty of 5 Counts of conspiracy and bank robbery. The verdict was returned during a rare Saturday Court session on October 2, 1971 by a jury that had been sequestered since the previous Thursday. Because of the sequestration, the Court sessions began at 9:30 a.m. and continued until 6:00 p.m.; the petit jury deliberated Friday night until 11:00 p.m. and resumed early the next morning.

U Admitted revolutionary Stanley Bond, 21, of Denver, Colo., linked with Susan Saxe, 22, of Albany in the 1960 killing of a Boston policeman, will be sentenced Oct. 29 for the robbery of an Evanston, Ill. bank last year.

The 26-year-old Bond, an ex-convict from Cambridge, Mass., told Judge Abraham Marovitz following his conviction Tuesday in Chicago, "You're an absolute idiot if you don't give me the maximum sentence."

During the two-day trial in which there were no defense witnesses and with Bond tried in absentia because he would not guarantee his actions during court proceedings, prosecution witness Robert J. Valeri, 22, of Somerville, Mass., told the court he, Bond and Miss Saxe planned the Evanston robbery.

THE 22-YEAR-OLD Miss Saxe

Bond, who said he became involved with political revolutionaries at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., also faces charges of robbery and murder in last year's robbery-slaying.

Bond was tried last June for the Evanston bank robbery but a mistrial was declared after a witness told the jury Bond was an ex-convict.

Bond said it was while serving his first sentence for robbery in a Massachusetts prison that he decided to "go to war."

"War against whom," Marovitz asked.

"You . . . the people with the power," Bond replied.

STATUS OF PROSECUTION

A Federal grand jury at Chicago, Illinois, on January 5, 1971 returned a true bill of indictment, number 71 CR 2, charging STANLEY RAY BOND and ROBERT JOSEPH VALERI with the armed robbery of $8,086.00 from the Prudential Savings and Loan Association, Evanston, Illinois, on August 18, 1970 in violation of Title 18, U.S. Code, Section 2113(a) and (d). The case was assigned to District Judge ABRAHAM LINCOLN MAROVITZ for trial. Bond was fixed at $200,000 each by Chief Judge EDWIN A. ROBSON. Bench warrants were issued and lodged as detainers by U.S. Marshal, Boston, Massachusetts. U

BOND was returned to Chicago under a writ of habeas corpus ad prosequendum and was arraigned on the indictment on May 13, 1971. He stood mute in court and a Federal defender attorney, LEVINSON, entered a plea of not guilty. Judge MAROVITZ continued the case for motions and to set trial on June 11, 1971. U

4 Still at Large In Boston Bank Holdup-Killing

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP) — Four out of five persons charged with murder in the machine-gun slaying of a Boston patrolman and described by police as revolutionaries remained at large last night.

One of them, William M. Gilday, ignored a plea from his daughter to surrender and eluded a police dragnet.

Gilday, 41, charged in the murder of patrolman Walter K. Schroeder during the holdup of a Boston bank on Wednesday, was last seen in the Haverhill area.

Also sought for murder were Katherine A. Power, 40, Denver, Colo., registered as a senior at Brandeis University in Waltham; Susan Saxe, 20, of Albany, N.Y., a June graduate of Brandeis; and Stanley R. Bond, 25, of Cambridge, a special student at Brandeis last semester.

Los Angeles Trip Reported

Police say they believe the trio flew to Los Angeles Thursday.

Robert Valeri, 21, of Somerville, the fifth person charged, was arrested a few hours after the $26,000 robbery of a branch of the State Street Bank Co. in the Brighton section.

Edmund L. McNamara, Boston police commissioner, said ammunition and military supplies found in Miss Power's Boston apartment showed a "positive link" between the robbery-slaying and "radical, revolutionary campus groups."

McNamara's charge was called "completely untrue" by Charles I. Schottland, acting president of Brandeis.

Revolt Link Discounted

"We have no evidence that they were revolutionaries," he said Friday. He said he did not know if the three students knew one another during their semester at Brandeis, but said that at one time they all worked at the student strike information center set up at the school during protests over the U.S. move into Cambodia.

A spokesman for the Boston Police Department said radical literature was found in Miss Power's apartment, but did not specify what groups were involved. "These kids they change organizations like they change shirts," he said.

Gilday's daughter Sally, who turned 18 on Thursday, the day the search for her father began, appealed over a local radio station for Gilday to give himself up.

3 Served Prison Terms

Gilday and two of the other suspects, Bond and Valeri, served terms at Walpole State Prison.

Gilday is a native of nearby Amesbury, and his wife and daughter live just across the state line in Hampton, N.H.

Roadblocks were maintained on the major arteries in the area, with about 75 state and Boston police on duty, but no new leads were reported. Police said Gilday last was seen in the area Friday about 2 p.m., after evading state and local police during a wild chase that included two kidnappings and three stolen cars, plus an exchange of gunfire during which one policeman was slightly wounded.

Mother Fears Influence

In Denver, Marjorie Power, mother of Kathy Power, said Friday night that if her daughter were involved in the incident, it was not "of her own free will."

"(Kathy was just home a week ago last Wednesday and had dinner with the family," Mrs. Power said. She said her daughter was "cheerful and happy and could hardly wait to return to college to get on with her studies."

Kathy was registered as a senior at Brandeis this fall.
